BATTLE HYMN OF THE MORRISES

(Tune: Battle Hymn of the Republic)

The ancient clan of Morris raised their standards to the sky;
They held their name in honor and their aims were ever high;
They were brave sons of Mars and not afraid to do or die.
The clan goes marching on!

Chorus: Glory to the Clan of Morris,
Virile, worthy, brave and loyal,
Pro-prium Deus et pa-trium!
The clan goes marching on.

Richard, Thomas, Nicholas—were fathers of our clan;
Posterity of Anthony and Owen never ran;
Jacob was a hero, Roger was a famous man.
The clan goes marching on!

Sir Martin was an Irishman and statesman of renown;
And Anthony was mayor of a Pennsylvania town;
With great men of Jersey, Richard's name is written down.
The clan goes marching on!

Robert and Lew' Morris signed a famous document;
Robert raised the money which the Yankee Congress spent;
A Morris framed the Constitution—what he said he meant.
The clan goes marching on!

Charles was captain of the ship that sailed across the sea,
When Lafayette returned to France—America was free.
Jacob was an aide-de-camp of General Robert Lee.
The clan goes marching on!

Our fathers dwelt in England, Ireland, Scotland and in Wales.
Where English tongue is spoken now the Morris name prevails.
How could the nations but advance when Morris never fails!
The clan goes marching on!

The Morris Clan is mighty, with three hundred thousand strong;
In seventy-six, five hundred kinsmen fought to right a wrong;
Thirty towns bear Morris names. Sure, let us sing that song—
The clan goes marching on!

The Morris sons have courage any task or foe to face;
The Morris girls are lovely with their beauty, charm and grace;
The Morris leaven is a blessing to the human race.
The clan goes marching on!

(A) INTRODUCTION

THE MORRIS Family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years.

The Morris Family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important roles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Morrisses have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In reference No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Morris:

The familiar surname of Morris, variously written "Morres," "Morice," "Morys," "Morse," etc., may be traced to various sources. Of the English families of the name there are two classes, those of native and of foreign extraction. The latter came over with the Conqueror. Of the former, the most ancient are derived from Wales. One section of the foreign class had a Moorish origin, crossed over from Africa by way of Spain, and were introduced to Europe where they performed various feats of dancing.

Probably the most common source of the name is in Wales. There the name of "Mars," "Mavors" and "Mawr-rwyce" were very ancient titles given to such of the chieftains as were pre-eminent for valour, and whose numerous descendants account for the present frequency of the name in Wales. The meaning of the title is "Warlike, powerful."

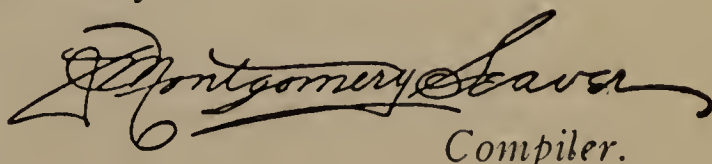

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume, he is bringing to the Morris Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their co-operation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

(B) THE MORRIS COAT OF ARMS

COAT of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms, in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Morris Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Morrises of Cardiganshire, Wales. Coats of Arms very similar to it are used by many other branches of the Morris family, and numerous other branches have Arms resembling it.

This is the most widely used of all Morris Coats of Arms, and has been in existence for many centuries. It is described in BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, BURKE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations and pedigrees. Crozier records it for Anthony Morris, from Cardiganshire, who settled in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in 1695. It has been used for generations by his descendants and by many other American branches of the Morris family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms .....	Sable, a lion passant between three scaling ladders or.	On a black shield a lion passant between three scaling ladders, all gold.
Motto .....	Proprium Deus et Patrium.	And the God of our fathers.

In the belief of the compiler there is at least one error in the Latin of the motto recorded above. It follows that the English version may also be incorrect. However, it is the best translation obtainable of what has been established by authority and tradition as the motto of the Morris family.

In the Washington Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, this Coat of Arms is carved at the top of the panel of the fourth choir stall—the stall which commemorates the Muhlenberg Brigade and which was given in memory of Captain Morris, of the Light Horse of the City of Philadelphia, by his descendants.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said: "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Morris family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

(D) PROMINENT BRITISH MORRISES, PAST GENERATIONS

CHARLES MORRIS: (1745-1838); song writer; descendant of good Welsh family; served in America with the 17th foot, 1764; very popular with his witty songs; became known as the "Sun of the Table" because he was a welcome addition at any party. The Prince of Wales settled £200 a year on Morris.

CORLYN: (d. 1779); commissioner of customs, a fine administrator and served as secretary of the customs in Scotland; submitted several suggestions for the better regulation of the customs and salt duties; Morris' economic works are valuable; he was an able statistician and did much in the way of economic reform.

EDWARD: (d. 1689); Welsh poet of Perthi Llwydion; was one of the best known writers of his time of carols, ballads and englynion.

FRANCIS ORPEN: (1810-1893); naturalist; born at Cove, near Cork; eldest son of Rear Admiral Henry (s. of Morris of New York, who served in the American-French wars); held many religious positions; until his death he had the rectorship of Nunburnholme, Yorkshire; wrote much on religion and natural history; wrote "A History of British Birds."

SIR JAMES: (1763 ?-1830); vice admiral; was with the Prince of Wales in the West Indies and present at the Battle of St. Lucian and Grenado; in 1793 he was assigned to the Boston Frigate, which he took to England and commanded for the next four years in the Channel, the Bay of Biscay and the Spanish coast; in 1811 he was made rear admiral, eight years later gaining the title of vice admiral. Morris married, 1802, Margaretta Sarah, daughter of Thomas Somers Cock, well-known banker.

JOHN: (1617 ?-1649); soldier; brought up in the house of Thomas Wentworth, Earl of Strafford; at sixteen Morris was made ensign to Strafford's own company of foot, and soon afterwards lieut. of his guard; during the Irish Rebellion was appointed sergeant major in the regiment commanded by Sir Francis Willoughby and major by commission from the Earl of Ormonde, 1642. Morris' pleasant manners made him a favorite; was a genius at strategy. The exploits of the famous soldier were celebrated by Thomas Vaughn in five Latin elegiac poems. Morris married Margery, eldest daughter of Dr. Robert Dawson, bishop of Clonfert and Kilmacduay, by whom he had two sons and one daughter.

JOHN: (1826-1893); Jesuit; b. at Potacamund, on the Neilgherry Hill, southern India; on returning for the second time to England he entered Trinity College; embraced the Catholic religion; studied at the English College in Rome; was ordained priest in the Cathedral Church of St. John Lateran and sent back to the England Mission; later he obtained release from his missionary oath and decided to enter the Society of Jesus; however, he became Cardinal Wiseman's secretary. In 1867 he became a Jesuit; in 1891 became head of the staff of Jesuit writers at Farm St., Berkeley Square; died suddenly while preaching at Wimbledon; wrote many important works.

JOHN CORNAC: (1798-1858); Telugu scholar; entered royal navy; saw active service in the last two years of the French War; entered Civil Service in India, 1818. Morris was translator to the Government; in 1839 he became civil auditor. Among his most successful services was the establishment of the Madras Government Bank; devoted spare time to the study of Sanskrit, Persian and Hindustani; fellow of the Royal Society.

LEWIS: (1700-1765); Welsh poet, philologist and antiquary; collector of customs and salt tax; set up a printing press to print Welsh books and popularize Welsh literature; devoted much time to his favorite Welsh studies; many of his manuscripts and volumes are now in the British Museum.

RICHARD: (d. 1779); Welsh scholar; brother of Lewis Morris and, like him, combined a love of Welsh poetry and history with much business sagacity; chief clerk of foreign accounts; in the navy office; supervised the printing of the editions of the Welsh Bible in 1746, which were issued by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; was a leading figure among London Welshmen and president of the Cymmrodorion Society.

ROBERT: (1754); architect; his earliest work was on Inverary Castle (Gothic); later he erected Coomb Bank, Kent, and Wimbledon House, Surrey; about 1750 with the Earl of Burlington designed Kirby Hall, Yorkshire; author of many essays, lectures, etc., on architecture.

ROGER: (1767-1794); lieutenant colonel; American loyalist; born in England; captain in Francis Ligonier's regiment, with which he went to America in 1755; aide-de-camp to Major General Edward Braddock; served in many engagements in America; settled, with his wife, in a mansion on the Hudson, living there until his property was confiscated; the house was Washington's headquarters at one time. Morris and his wife returned to England, where they died.

THOMAS: (1780-1800); engraver; pupil of Woolert; worked in the line manner and confined himself to landscapes, the figure in his plates being frequently put in by others; did many interesting plates and also several original etchings.

(K) MORRIS TOWNS, ETC.

There are in the United States towns as follows:

MORRIS: Ala., Conn., Ill., Ind., Minn., N. Y., Okla., Pa., W. Va.; MORRIS-DALE: Pa.; MORRIS HEIGHTS: N. Y.; MORRIS PLAINS: N. J.; MORRIS RANCH: Tex.; MORRIS RUN: Pa.; MORRIS STATION: Ga.; MORRISTON: Ark., Fla.; MORRISTOWN: Ariz., Ind., Minn., N. J., N. Y., Ohio, S. Dak., Tenn.; MORRIS-VALE: W. Va.; MORRISVILLE: Mo., N. Y., N. C., Pa., S. C., Vt., Va.; MORRISVILLE STATION: N. Y. There are also in the United States numerous counties, townships, streets, avenues, etc., bearing the name "Morris." This is eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which the name is held in this country.

(L) MORRIS CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama .....	183	Ohio .....	726	Oklahoma .....	160
Arizona .....	56	Maine .....	58	Oregon .....	48
Arkansas .....	60	Maryland .....	81	Pennsylvania .....	996
California .....	605	Massachusetts .....	560	Rhode Island .....	120
Colorado .....	128	Michigan .....	354	South Carolina .....	24
Connecticut .....	197	Minnesota .....	98	South Dakota .....	8
District of Columbia	105	Mississippi .....	47	Tennessee .....	257
Delaware .....	49	Missouri .....	261	Texas .....	508
Florida .....	172	Montana .....	65	Utah .....	67
Georgia .....	278	Nebraska .....	95	Vermont .....	30
Idaho .....	41	Nevada .....	8	Virginia .....	252
Illinois .....	629	New Hampshire .....	45	Washington .....	146
Indiana .....	419	New Jersey .....	438	West Virginia .....	214
Iowa .....	177	New Mexico .....	14	Wisconsin .....	134
Kansas .....	112	New York .....	1187	Wyoming .....	13
Kentucky .....	208	North Carolina .....	96
Louisiana .....	66	North Dakota .....	16	Total .....	10,611

To secure an estimate of the "Morris population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a) multiply by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory consulted .....	2
Half of the Morrisses reside in the rural districts or in small towns having no printed directories which were available to us .....	2
There is an average of more than four persons in each American family.....	4
Since Morris daughters marry and have as many descendants as the Morris sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Morris (though it is much easier to locate the latter) .....	2
By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding figure, we have a total of.....	32
Conservative estimate of the Morris population of the United States, one-half of whom bear the name Morris and one-half of whom bear other names.....	339,552
The estimated Morris population of any of the states may be obtained by multiplying the figures shown by 32. There are Morrisses in every state of the Union. The Morris population of the British Empire is probably equal to that in the United States.

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE MORRISSES

For several centuries the Morrisses lived in Wales, England and Scotland. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland) and, likewise, the Morrisses were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Morrisses of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed five per cent. of the entire Morris population.

The Morrisses who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Morrisses in America who are church members, at least ninety-three per cent. are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical sketches of 42 Morrisses appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: BAPTIST, 1; CONGREGATIONALIST, 2; FRIEND (QUAKER), 1; EPISCOPAL, 5; METHODIST, 1; METHODIST EPISCOPAL, 1; PRESBYTERIAN, 5; ROMAN CATHOLIC, 1; other PROTESTANTS, 3; religion not stated, 22.
